

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

I am about to make a bona fide reduction in my stock in order to make room for another remodelling of my store and will sell at greatly reduced prices what is left of my excellent assortment of overcoats and heavy suits for men, boys and children. This is no shop-worn, old style or misfit stock, but just what I have been selling for at least double the money. To make room for necessary alterations in my store I must sacrifice the goods. Call and inspect them.

TO THE GOLDEN GATE.

Personally-Conducted Tours via Pennsylvania Railroad.

Undoubtedly California offers more genuine attractions to the pleasure-traveling public than any other part of the American continent. The fame of its climate is world-wide, and it is sought even by Europeans, who find it more charming than their own southern slopes. To Americans its worth is too well known to necessitate a description of the many advantages to be enjoyed.

Personally-conducted tours via Pennsylvania Railroad will leave New York and Philadelphia February 12 and March 11, 1896. In addition to the many other points of interest visited on the first tour a stop will be made at New Orleans for the Mardi-Gras festivities, and four weeks will be allowed in California. On the second tour four and one-half weeks will be allowed in California.

An addition to the magnificent train heretofore used for these tours is a through Pullman compartment car.

The car, which will be the very best that the Pullman Company can supply, will contain nine enclosed compartments—two drawing rooms and seven state rooms—and will be attached to the special train at Jersey City and run through to San Diego, Cal., on the first tour, and San Francisco on the second.

This will be the first car of its kind to be run on a transcontinental train, and that it will be thoroughly appreciated by participants in the tours is evidenced by the fact that already several of the compartments have been reserved.

Applications for space or itineraries giving all information should be made to Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York, or Room 411, Broad Street station, Philadelphia.

First-class Work the Magnet.

There are few better equipped job offices in the county, and none in the town, than that department of the Herald, and as a consequence our presses are kept busy. This is generally considered a dull season among printers, but not so with us now; in fact, we know no such period—the magnet being first-class work at reasonable prices. The rush of work has necessitated the employment of extra labor to meet the demand, and we are pleased that the favors of our friends pave the way for work for the unemployed.

Another Mine Tragedy.

AUDUBON, Jan. 20.—Patrick Boyle, a popular and esteemed citizen of Yorktown, and employed as a miner in the east, gangway of No. 2 basin, in No. 2 slope, met with a shocking death Saturday. He had opened a new breast, which was already about twelve yards from the gangway. He had prepared a blast and, after lighting the same, went out of the gangway to a neighboring workman, Frank McDade, who was opening an airway. Boyle stood but a few feet away from McDade, who was standing on the car tamping a hole. Without a moment's warning a flake of "bone" fell from the top, crushing Boyle to the bottom while he and his friend were still talking. McDade's escape from death was miraculous. Levers had to be used to extricate him from under the lump. His body and head was smashed beyond recognition. He was aged 30 years and resided at Jeddo previous to removing to Yorktown. A wife, three sons and two daughters survive him.

Interpreter for an Interpreter.

The case of Philip Yedinsky, one of the court interpreters, against Joe Savage, charging him with swindling, had its humorous features. The court sent the defendant back to jail and will dispose of the case next week. Philip had five lawyers and Savage was surrounded by seven legal gladiators. The prosecutor was asked to read the resignation, but declared he could not. Then Moses Rothstein, the interpreter, was asked to read it, but he said he couldn't read without his glasses. Philip was put on the stand to tell his story, but Mr. Whalen wanted an interpreter and so Moses Rothstein acted as interpreter for Interpreter Yedinsky. This created a laugh and Philip got mad about it.—Miners' Journal.

Our mammoth new store, corner Main and Lloyd streets, will be the largest and finest in this part of Pennsylvania. Before removal we must sell thousands of dollars worth of good, dependable Dry Goods. We have made a sweeping reduction all through the store in order to move goods quickly. Brigadier Bowen's Meetings.

The meetings of the Salvation Army in town Saturday evening and yesterday under the auspices of Brigadier Bowen and Ensign Gilbert, of New York city, were very successful. Three meetings were held, one Saturday evening, in the United Evangelical hall, another in the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon, and the third in Robbins' opera house last night. The places of meeting were crowded on each occasion. Brigadier Bowen gave interesting talks on slum work in New York city and Ensign Gilbert gave vocal and autoharp selections. They left for New York this morning. While here they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Bitler, of South Jardin street.

Immigrant Inspector.

Albert E. Carl, who has been stationed in Detroit, Mich., has been transferred to Philadelphia as Immigrant Inspector, vice John J. Monaghan, deceased. As the filling of the vacancy was considered within the gift of ex-Congressman Reilly, explanations from that gentleman will now be in order. The latter had recommended John J. Reilly, the prominent young Democrat of the First ward, but his failure in securing the appointment is attributed to the want of sufficient courage on the part of the ex-Congressman to insist upon the appointment. The young element of the Democracy here will let their feelings be known later on.

The Centralia Collieries.

Notwithstanding denials by the parties concerned, indications point very strongly to the Centralia and Logan collieries, now operated by Lentz, Lilly & Co., passing into the hands of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company. It is also said that the Park Place collieries will be included in the deal. There is a big rush to get out the coal at these collieries, supplies are secured in small quantities, no improvements are made. They are cutting no coal, and there is every indication that they are cleaning up preparatory to a transfer of the property.

He Likes Them.

Some months ago Thomas J. Joyce, editor of Mahanoy City Daily American, published an editorial in which he made an attack upon Roger N. O'Donnell, agent for the Pennsylvania Mutual Life Insurance Company, and also attacked the company in general. Mr. O'Donnell had Editor Joyce arrested for libel, and the case was returned to court several terms ago and a true bill found. The prosecutor, however, never showed up, and Saturday the case was not pressed, the county paying the costs.
